Dear students and families,

Only one week to go to the big show! The annual school concert and awards night is next Thursday 6th November at the Frankston Arts Centre. A tremendous amount of work goes into preparing for the concert by students and staff. Please make sure you have your tickets ordered as no tickets will be available at the door. Naranga students have been practicing diligently to prepare their numbers for the big night. I have watched a few of the items in rehearsal and I can promise that it is going to be a great concert.

In other news, Naranga was well represented at the Mornington Community Garden Open Day. Our kitchen garden produce and art work was on display. A Naranga mosaic was awarded first prize! Thank you to Michelle Athinoitis for organizing the school’s participation in the Open Day.

Don’t forget that due to the Melbourne Cup holiday there will be no school on Tuesday next week.

Star Student

Star Student for this week is Nic M for being respectful while working at Capel Sound. Good work Nic!!!!!
We’ve had a great year in Middle Akintola. Some of the things we’ve enjoyed in 2014 have been Out & About, P.E, Art, basketball, Naranga Bites, recycling … and of course completely our maths work. We know it’s not December yet but we wish you all a very happy Christmas (and we hope you’re all on Santa’s nice list)!

Art News

These middle students enjoyed creating scary Halloween masks using polystyrene balls, google eyes, paint, pipe cleaners and a variety of other materials to create individual effects.

40th Anniversary

We are getting a huge response for our major celebration, the Naranga 40th anniversary celebration. The celebrations will be held here at school from 5 to 7pm on Tuesday 25th Nov. You might like to catch up on what is happening and who is coming by checking out our dedicated Facebook page Naranga School 40th Anniversary.
The Mornington Community Garden Open Day was a hive of activity. Families and garden lovers were in for a special treat last Saturday, one hundred communities’ gardens thriving with all sorts of seasonal vegetables and flowers. Naranga School took part in a produce and art display alongside Peninsula SDS and Oak Hill Gallery artists. Bunnings Mornington provided seed planting for children and Oak Hill Gallery conducted free art classes: jelly prints, drawings and sculptures. Other workshops include backyard bee keeping, garden herbs, composting and wok cooking demonstrations. Seedlings were also for sale.

There were lots of visitors who were interested in our school and commented about the fantastic mosaic artwork and vegetable gardens. One visitor even wanted to know if the artwork was for sale. At three o’clock the judges chose the flower shaped mosaic as the prize-winning artwork out of all the entries. Congratulation to the senior and middle students who worked tirelessly on this piece. The judges presented them with a book voucher from Farrell’s bookshop in Mornington.

Thank you to Mrs Sephton for manning our stalls for an hour to give me a break. Thank you to those families who attended this event.

Thank you to Mrs Dunn, art staff and Denise Blake who provided assistance to students working in groups or individually on the mosaic garden projects.
